Upholstered bed

ISOLAA

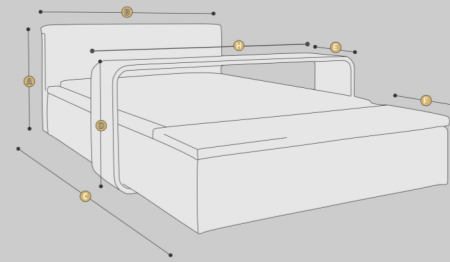

By definition, a bed is a piece of furniture for sleeping or resting while lying down. But is it only?

What if the bed could also be a comfortable place to read, watch movies over a glass of wine, work remotely, which is popular today, or even enjoy a delicious breakfast in bed?

We are sure that it is possible!
ISOLAA upholstered bed with a headrest and a place to sit instead of a frontrest. A unique element of the bed is a sliding table made of plywood. Rails with rollers allow it to be moved along its entire length, which allows for quick and easy positioning.

The seat at the end of the ISOLAA bed also serves as a base station. When we no longer need the table, move it over the seat. At this point, it does not interfere with the further use of the bed.

The constantly fashionable and often chosen by customers shades of white and beige emphasize the bright color and interesting texture of the plywood. The plywood has been protected with natural oil and beeswax. The upholstered headrest ensures comfort of sitting thanks to the ergonomic height and softness of the backrest.
